IN THE THEATRES

JACKSON'S

EVA TANGUAY IN "THE FOLLIES OF 1909."

The "gala" musical event of the present season at Jackson's Theatre, takes place this evening when Miss Tanguay, at the head of a great cast of 100 in Ziegfeld's big musical revue "Follies of 1909" direct from a successful all summer engagement in New York city, will appear. Miss Tanguay enjoys the reputation of being the most eccentric and yet the cleverest of all comedienne on the American stage. She was especially engaged by Mr. Ziegfeld as the star of his gigantic production and it is said that in this piece she has the best part and songs of her wonderful career, some of which are: the famous "I Don't Care," specialty: "Moving Day in Jungle Town," which shows Miss Tanguay surrounded by all the ferocious beasts of the jungle; "Gee, I'm Glad I'm a Boy," which shows Miss Tanguay in a new characterization, that of a fresh school boy, and others. Mr. Ziegfeld's latest girl creation is the Brinkley Bathing Girl, of which pretty Annabelle Whitford is the feature. She is assisted by a dozen of the handsomest show girls obtainable and this creation is said to excel anything of a like nature that has been heretofore attempted. While there has been a tremendous sale of seats, there still remains to be sold a number of good seats. The performance commences at 8:15 sharp.

ROBIN HOOD.

The fame of "Robin Hood," played by "The Bostonians" with phenomenal success has preceded it here. "Robin Hood" with an all star cast headed by Hal Mostyn, Antoinette Le Brun and Frederick N. Hutman and a score of other famous singers comes to Jackson's to-morrow evening and it will undoubtedly receive a very warm welcome. There will be many in the audience who no doubt have seen the tuneful opera before and have been singing its praises since. "Robin Hood" has swept the town before it. The scenic investiture of the opera is of wondrous beauty. The atmosphere of the scenes about "Sherwood Forest" and the town of Nottingham in England have been adhered to with fidelity. Without a superb cast "Robin Hood" would be almost intolerable. No fears may be had about the cast which will sing the opera here; all of the principals have sung the opera with success innumerable times and have reputations for superb Grand Opera work. Seats are now on sale.

PAPKE vs. KETCHELL.

Ever since that twenty round battle between Billy Papke and Stanley Ketchell was called off at San Francisco there has been a dispute as to which man really won it. Papke, his manager and his friends all insisted at the time that the referee robbed the Ketchells when he gave the decision to Stanley Ketchell. Some who saw the fight said it should have been called a draw. The motion picture of the contest which will be shown at Jackson's on next Wednesday matinee and night, will serve to give local fans an opportunity to judge for themselves as to whether the decision of the referee was a fair one. The films which are being shown by the Eagle Film Co., of San Francisco have been pronounced the best pictures ever seen in America. This verdict has been given in every town and city where they have been shown.

Has Silver Plate In His Skull

New York, Sept. 20.—After having successfully undergone what is said to have been one of the most difficult operations ever performed at the New York Hospital, Edward P. Day, an inspector in the City Sewer Department, will leave that institution to-morrow and return to his work.

Day's skull was fractured last July, when he was thrown from a Third Avenue trolley car. He lay unconscious and unidentified for two days in the Harlem Hospital. Then, after a consultation of Dr. Herman A. Harbold of Bellevue, House Surgeon Bennett, and Dr. Herriety of Harlem Hospital, they removed a piece of the man's skull, the size of a half dollar, which had slightly penetrated the brain.

Within half an hour after the operation Day became conscious and was able to tell who he was. A silver plate was subsequently substituted in the place where the bone had been. House Surgeon Bennett said last night that the operation was the most difficult of its kind ever performed in the hospital. Had it not been performed, Day if he had survived at all, according to the house surgeon, would have become insane and partly paralyzed. He is now as well as though he had never fallen from the car.

Church Funds Not Involved by Davis

A statement appearing in a New Haven paper concerning the trouble in Haven with the former town treasurer, George S. Davis, has caused not a little alarm among the members of Christ Episcopal church of Guilford, of which Davis was treasurer. The paper mentioned that Davis, whose town books show a shortage of over $10,000, was guilty of using some of the church money. This was denied last night by E. F. Bishop of Guilford and by Frederic C. Spencer, the present treasurer of the church. They say that a fund of $15,000 belonging to the church was found intact and that all the church books balance.

Jealousy Cause of Saloon Man's Murder

Waterbury, Sept. 20.—Sensational developments have been brought to light by the coroner's investigation in the murder of Bronick Kulvinski, the Union City saloon keeper, who died Saturday night at a local hospital, and for whose death are held Sophia Kritchman, a well educated Lithuanian music teacher and Joseph Pecizka, the Lithuanian. Kulvinsky had several bullet wounds in his body and his throat was slashed. According to the testimony jealousy seems to have been the motive and not robbery as at first believed. The police assert that the fatal shots were fired by Pecizka and that the slaying of the victim's throat was done by the woman.

POLI'S

This is the third week of the vaudeville season, and one of the best shows that can be found in the vaudeville field has been provided at Poli's. It has been made up with special attention paid to the comedy element, which prevails. The 4 Huntings can always be depended upon to give a comedy sketch, and they are uproariously funny. They are using in their vaudeville sketch, the "Fool House," or rather a condensed version, the play in which they starred so successfully for three years. It is a scream from start to finish, and you are going away, after seeing it with a very pleasant taste in your mouth.

Even the casting Dunbars, one of the very best casting acts on the vaudeville stage, have introduced a comedy vein into their act which gets lots of good hearty laughs. All the little folks will enjoy the Carlos Circus, with its pretty ponies, and nice dogs and pigeons. They perform all sorts of tricks and give the old folks a treat as well as the young ones. Mr. Harold of Harrold & Wood, has been called the Caruso of the vaudeville stage. He will show us. Now the fact is that he has one sweet voice, and he knows just how to use it, and he does use it, and he has a partner, Mr. Wood, that has another voice, and he knows how to use it. The entire bill is a good one. We cannot particularize too much for you will find the show a first class one from opening to closing.

FASHIONS AND FADS

While gilt buckles still retain their favor, some fancy footwear has buckles matching the color of the gown. Mousseline and gauze ruching is used to finish gowns at the ends of the sleeves, around the bottom of the skirt, and elsewhere.

Silk-covered cord is a special trimming that makes a gown look individual, and is thicker than what is known as rat-tail.

The new draperies for autumn are striking in effect. Birds and leaves and flowers riot over them in gorgeous abundance.

The new lingerie still shows the effect of ruthless suppression. It has lost none of its prettiness, but is no longer aggressive.

The new feature of yachting and motorizing coats is the open side fitted with loops and buttons, which may or may not be closed.

For smart travelling wraps soft black taffeta chiffon is being used, often lined with delicately colored silk or crepe de chine.

Rosettes of all kinds, from the tiny ones for slippers to large fluffy affairs worn as a sash, figure among novel dress accessories.

Dainty lace slippers are made to wear with lace gowns to dinners. They are fitted with red heels and adorned with circular rosettes of lace. Irish crochet is seen on all the cloth and silk gowns, and insets of Irish crochet, large as well as small, ornament waists of cotton crepe.

Tasseled silk stockings are new. The fluffy silk tassels dangle from an embroidered design just high enough to show when the dress is lifted.

A skirt model much liked has simulated button-and-buttonhole closing at the center front, the lapping edges of the closing being cut into squared scallops.

Leaves of the most elaborate description are used for evening gowns, and in some cases the pattern is outlined with silver or gold thread or tiny seed pearls.

A few skirts with flounced effects have been seen, but they have almost invariably seemed more like the dropped line of the hip yoke than of a flounce.
